Latest CQP review update

EA updates QP Position Statement

The Environment Agency has published their updated Position Statement for the CQP review here. It has been updated to reflect that the QP is still supported, the task and finish groups have been set up, and the revision process has started. We are now awaiting the details for the first meetings of the group.

On this webpage, you can also find details on how the Environment Agency is revising the QPs, and agreeing costs and funding, along with other information on the new resources frameworks.
