CCS at the REA Organics Conference 2025

CCS is pleased to announce that we will be attending the REA Organics 2025 conference tomorrow at the Delta Nottingham Belfry Hotel, organised by the Association for Renewable Energy & Clean Technology (REA). This event will bring together industry experts, regulators, and key stakeholders to discuss the future of organic waste recycling.

As a crucial date in the sector's calendar, the conference will cover regulatory changes, sustainability in organics, and market developments. CCS will be on hand to engage with scheme participants, answer questions about certification, and the upcoming Interim Resource Framework. A member of the CCS team will also be chairing a discussion. The session, chaired by Duncan Craig, will include talks by Simon Blackhurst on Organics to Horticulture, Sarah Wynn on Harmonisation of Carbon Accounting Tools, and Joe Epicheff on Nutrient Recovery in the Organic Waste Sector. If you're attending, we encourage you to connect with us.

Upcoming CCS Producers' Forum

The first CCS Producers' Forum of 2025 is coming up – Save the Date

The next meeting of the forum will take place online on: Wednesday, 15th May 11:00 - 13:30

The Forum provides an opportunity for producers to discuss scheme updates, share insights, and raise any concerns with the producers' representative and CCS representatives.

If you wish to attend, please register your interest and confirm your attendance by contacting Oliver Dunn at: oliver@realschemes.org.uk.

If you are unable to attend but would like to raise an issue for discussion, please contact Gregor Keenan, the CCS Producers' Representative, at gregor@keenanrecycling.co.uk.

We look forward to your participation and valued contributions to these important discussions.
